Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Ghost Land, Vol. 2: Or Researches Into the Mysteries of Occultism; Illustrated in a Series of Autobiographical Sketches Before the subjoined papers are submitted to the critical reader, the author desires most emphatically to protest against their being ranked in the same category of literature as his recently published volume on Art Magic. The autobiographical sketches now presented to the public were written, or rather collated from private memoranda, some four years since, at the earnest request of Mrs. Emma Hardinge Britten, and that with the simple design of contributing such a series of magazine papers to her admirable periodical, The Western Star, as would be in harmony with its general tone and design. When it is remembered that these papers are only off-hand sketches of a fateful life, in which striking illustrations of the spiritual philosophy may be found in a less stately guise than abstract essays, and that at most they are only to be considered as magazine sketches, the author trusts that his work will be held exempt from that severity of critical analysis which he would have courted for Art Magic had it been placed before the world under similar circumstances. The only claim that the author can advance for the present work is that of strict veracity. Although the same reasons that induced him to withhold his name when it was first produced prevail with him to-day, all the incidents narrated have been faithfully set down with the strictest regard to truth as far as the present volume carries the history forward. To the author himself the details of his life convey in retrospection the most important lessons, but their...
