Brand New Book  Print on Demand .If you were to listen to the typical message on marriages in the 50 s, my guess is that you would have heard something like this: Women submit. Women Submit. Women submit . . . . Oh yea, you men have a little work to do too. Let s fast forward to the 90 s and listen to the message as it is being preached from the same pulpit: Husband s love. Husbands love, Husbands love . . . Oh yea, you wives have a little work to do too. How was it that women were so bad in the fifties? How did men get to be so bad in the nineties? This book takes a politically incorrect look to see what the Bible says about gender relationships, no matter what the culture says. We start by looking at Adam and Woman as they were created. To be human is to be finite. We can only have just so much strength and once we hit our limit, no more. God designed men and women to have different complimentary strengths so they would be a balance for each other. In this way, they would each be stronger when they were together. Then came sin and all bets were off. After the fall, Adam and Woman changed. This book now looks at the changes which occurred. Who were Adam and Eve trying to hide from when they covered themselves with leaves? They were the only ones in the garden of Eden. They were hiding from each other. Over the millennia, things haven t changed much. The distance which has come between men and women has probably widened...
