Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Bay State Forty-Fourth: A Regimental Record It would be quite foolish, as well as useless to boast that the 44th contained the only young men of promise that have enlisted since the war began; or to clam that our Regiment is in advance of all others in education or morality; nor is it intention of the regard to this thousands; - he wishes merely to make mention of the thoughts that occur to one who has simply met our boys as comrades in camp duty or on the march. The love of fun is an element in the character of most boys; and in the 44th that characteristic seems a marked one. We mean genuine fun, without the desire for mischief that very often accompanies the element mentioned. the mock dress parades and kitten burials that made some rainy days at Readville pass more quickly, were evidences of the humor of the ring-leaders there; and, at the present time, whenever there is an opportunity, something laughable is brought forward to enliven the crowd. On the voyage to Newbern in spite of the actual discomforts experienced, we enjoyed many a hearty laugh, and had good cause to thank the originator of the jokes perpetrated. To ventilate the space assigned us between decks, a win s l was extended from a point above the upper deck to the lower, the opening to which was just above the boys heads. The stairway from deck to desk being very slippery, those passing up or coming down quite naturally grasped a fold of the wind-sail to present a fall; and the consequence was, that the air intended for the...
