In the constant struggle across the front lines throughout Operation Downfall. As the war rages in the Pacific, United States president, Harry Truman, has sent out an order to his military to put Japan under siege. Since the Japanese Imperial Army has become increasingly more aggressive despite its deteriorating numbers, the US military now is more determined to make them surrender. After the declaration of the massive invasion of Japan, the United States Navy, Marine, and Army Air Corps join forces to attack the enemy and take control of Japan. Because of the US militarys reinforcements and strategic air raids, the enemy forces are eventually coerced to surrender especially when Tokyo falls to the American soldiers control. Join the ranks of Fox Company, 1st Marine Division during the first waves of the largest amphibious invasion in the history of mechanized warfare. Acquiring a completely different view on the events that shaped our 20th Century and a look into the allies plan for the final invasion of the second world war. The end of the active runway at north field is now swarming with activity and the sound of aircraft engines is vivid. The mission calls for a formation of heavy bombers, and a group of escorts. The fighters take off from the nearby Yorktown and rendezvous with the bomber squadron. -Crew ofa B-17 Flying Fortress departing Iwo Jima The waves crash against the narrow hull of the landing boats. Are advised marines, we will be landing under enemy fire shouts Lt. Offerman. The Japanese open up with a wrath of automatic machine gun rounds, firing from the tree line and beach head;...
